August 11, 2022

Dear Costco Member:

Costco records indicate that you, or one of your add-on members, have purchased Glucerna Original Vanilla, Chocolate, and/or Strawberry 8 fluid oz tetra pak cartons in a 24 count club case configuration between June 6, 2022 – July 27, 2022.

Lyons Magnus, an Abbott third party manufacturer, is expanding its voluntarily recall initiated on July 28, 2022 to include additional lots of Glucerna Vanilla, Chocolate, and Strawberry 8 fluid oz tetra pak cartons in a 24 count club case configuration due to the potential for microbial contamination, including from the organism Cronobacter sakazakii and Clostridium botulinum. Clostridium botulinum has not been found in products. No illnesses have been reported to date. Glucerna plastic bottles sold at club stores are not impacted.

Other Glucerna products in a tetra carton that are not in scope of the recall: Glucerna Hunger Smart Meal Size Shake and Glucerna Protein Smart 30g protein Shake.

To check if the product you have is in this recall, visit glucerna.com or check the lot number on the case or 8oz tetra carton. If your product is included in the recall, do not use the product and return it to your local Costco for a refund.
